

Salt Lake County Arts & Culture

PATRON STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Arts & Culture strives to create a safe, comfortable environment where everyone can enjoy live performances and events. As a Patron, you have the right to enjoy your event without any form of discrimination, harassment, or any other disruptive behavior.

Theater Etiquette

We ask our Patrons to follow proper theater-going etiquette:

- Behave in a respectful, courteous manner to venue staff and other patrons
- Sit in the seats you purchased
- Confirm event updates before you arrive and follow specific event requirements
- Follow house rules when attending an event, house rules are either posted in the program or on the event page on our website: saltlakecountyarts.org
- Follow city, county, state, and federal laws and statutes

What to Do

If you experience or witness any disruptive, discriminating, or harassing behavior, please report the incident to an Arts & Culture venue team member right away or you may email us at arts-info@slco.org. Please include your contact information and as much detail as possible about the incident.

What Happens

If a patron violates the Standards of Conduct, Arts & Culture may remove the patron from the event, the facility, and/or initiate civil or criminal prosecution. Patrons may appeal a violation report with Arts & Culture and Event Presenter management.
